

Since 2006 all Honda vehicles have been equipped with a Maintenance Minders.

It is located on your dashboard, near your speedometer.

There are a few features that make the Maintenance Minder unique.

First, it adapts to your driving style, it will record whether your engine runs at higher rpms or lower rpms during short or long trips.

Second, the Maintenance Minder computer determines when maintenance is due based on your driving habits. The system keeps your vehicle running at maximum efficiency.

Oil Life

Third, the Maintenance Minder will adjust, moving up or delaying, services to coordinate all monitored maintenance at one time, minimizing trips to the Service Department.

Lastly, it will display all required service as a series of codes.

Codes

Your oil life will start, after you purchase your vehicle or after an oil change, at 100% and decrease to 0%. At 15% the wrench light illuminates, indicating service is due, and two sets of codes may appear. The first part of the code will be either an "A" or "B".

The second part will be a number (or combination of numbers) from "1" to "6". Please refer to our Maintenance Schedule page for an explanation of the codes.

If you have a New Honda and are bringing it in for the first oil change, Honda recommends that you wait until the oil life has reached 5%. Honda has a special additives in the oil to acclimate the engine. We strongly encourage you to wait until 5%, and as always the first oil change is FREE for customers that purchased their vehicle at Muller Honda
